The reason Eighty Four Wines exists is to explore what Napa Valley can produce with newcomer grape varieties. Albariño has been at the top of our list since the beginning. We love the clean acidity and the direct purity of the wines from Spain and wanted to see what the grape would do here. In 2012 we planted four acres in Napa Valley's Carneros District and this is our first harvest. We gave it just four months on the lees in stainless steel barrels — no oak, no malolactic fermentation — so that the resulting wine would be fruity and refreshing. We're pleased with the result and hope you are too.

Winemaker Notes

"This is pure, liquid springtime. The 2018 vintage fills the glass with bright aromas and flavors of honeysuckle, citrus blossom, white melon, white peach, and wet stone all beautifully presented with vibrant, racy acidity."

Eighty Four Wines

We started making wine together in 1984. The first few years were challenging — experimenting, working long hours, learning from our mistakes, pushing ourselves to make the best wines we could. They were exciting years. This wine represents two friends going full circle — making wine together, trying new things, doing what we love. That's the spirit of Eighty Four. Enjoy! — Elias Fernandez & Doug Shafer
